I know I've been the (in)famous dork of the school but all that means is that when you really need a Jedi Knight, I'm your woman. But when I do take over the world, the fangirls, the videogamers, and the caf crew will earn a special place in my new world order. Teacher Messages

Congratulations as you leave Arlington High School and move on to the next phase of your lives. Your graduation is especially poignant for me; I am retiring and leaving Arlington High School with you. Change is exciting but also a time of reflection. Think of who you were four years ago and how much you have changed in these fleeting years. It has been a joy to watch you grow and mature during this time. I wish you the best of luck as you now chart your own course into the future.

Fondly, Kathy Kaditz

Whatever you choose to do, remember -- your best is good enough for anybody.

Best of Luck. Mr. Bookstan

Best of luck to the Class of 2009.

"The world is but a canvas to the imagination" - Henry David Thoreau

Nancy Mutise

Dear Class of 2009. Thank you for opening up my mind. You have taught me so much about Psychology. Continue to demand that your voices be heard.

Cheers, Mr. Sandler

"There is a road, no simple highway, between the dawn and the dark of night, and if you go no one may follow, that path is for your steps alone.

Be good. Mr. Dever

Congratulations to the Class of 2009! It has been a pleasure working with each of you over the past few years. Don't forget to come back and visit to share all your success stories. Best of luck!

The AHS Guidance Department:

Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Hirsch, Mrs. Buckley, Ms Ratowsky, Ms Menton, Ms Razi,

Mrs. Caccavaro and Mrs. Bouvier

To the Class of 2009:

May all of you follow your dreams, achieve your goals and live a happy and healthy life.

Congratulations.

Mrs. Villano

Hey seniors, I want you all to know how much I have enjoyed our time together. As your teacher and advisor, it has been great knowing all of you! "May He give you the desire of your heart and make all your plans succeed." Psalm 20:4
Take care and God bless. Love, Briggsy

Congratulations to the Class of 2009. It has been a pleasure working with each of you over the past few years. Don't forget to come back and visit to share all your success stories. Best of luck!

Guidance: Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Hirsch, Mrs. Buckley, Ms Rakowsky, Mrs. Caccavaro,
Ms. Menton, Ms Razi and Mrs. Bouvier

To the Class of 2009: Congratulations! I wish you much success and happiness wherever this next phase of your life takes you.

Mrs. Brauner

May your lives be filled with more joy than sorrow, more laughs than tears, and more love than four walls can contain.

Best Wishes always. Mrs. Kfoury

I do not wish you luck, you will not need it. You are talented, resourceful and savvy. Remember this as you set out to influence the world. Make us even more proud of you. Ms Konstandakis

Congratulations, Class of 2009. I wish you success in your future endeavors.

Robert DiLoreto

To the Class of 2009.

Although I am not at the high school this year, my thoughts are with you, and especially with you, Todd. My wish is for a happy and bright future.

Donna Kirkland

To the Class of 2009...

Remember, sometimes you have to color outside of the lines to create a masterpiece.

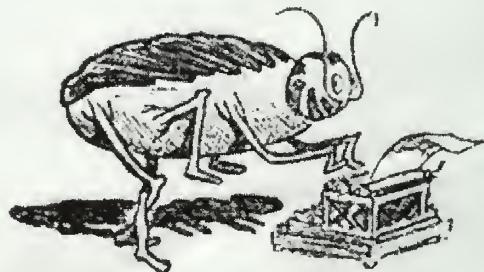

I will miss you.
Nanci Ortwein

Dear Class of 2009,

When I was in high school, our literature anthologies always included some writing by a minor American author named Donald Marquis. He was a journalist as well as a novelist and poet, and he created an alter-ego named archie. Archie was a cockroach who lived in the newsroom and left poems on Marquis's typewriter. We students were supposed to be kept in stitches by the idea of a cockroach typing a poem and even more amused by the fact that there were no capital letters because archie could not type and press the shift key at the same time. Not really rib-tickling, even at a time when there were only three television networks, and I haven't seen archie or Marquis in an anthology in quite some time, and yet some of the ideas of that pesky little cockroach have stayed with me to this day. (There was an alley cat named mehitabel too, but I'll save that for your tenth reunion!)

You see archie was a common-sense cockroach and he was writing around the time of the Great Depression. He and Mr. Marquis were great supporters of Franklin Roosevelt and the changes that FDR was trying to bring about in a country that had been skewered by the excesses of big business. Sound familiar??? Roosevelt was new on the job and inventing his way out of the financial mess with a team of economists, politicians, and labor experts. archie compared FDR's style to that of other leaders of the time, i.e., Hitler and Mussolini, writing:

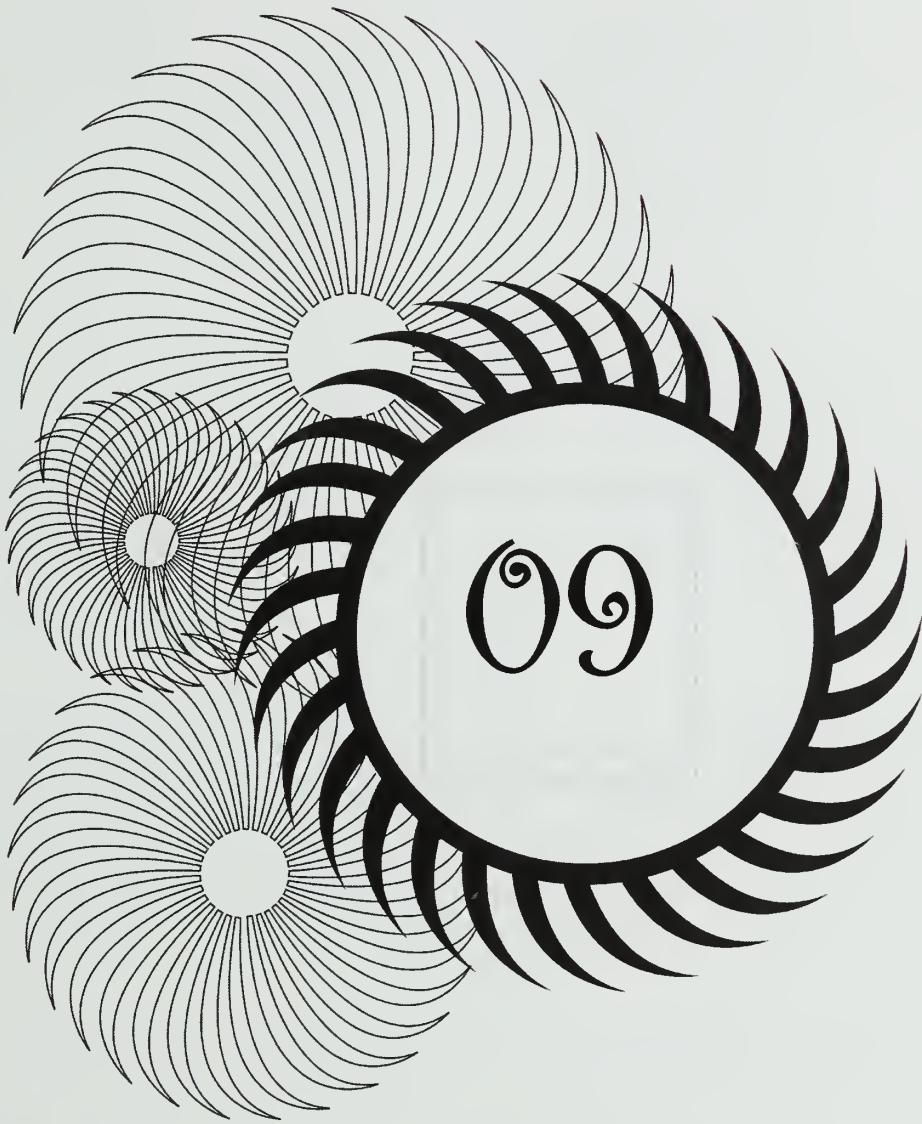

there is bound to be a certain amount of trouble running any country
if you are president the trouble happens to you but if you are a tyrant you can arrange things so that most of the trouble happens to other people there is always a comforting thought in a time of trouble when it is not our trouble

The financial meltdown of 2008 is our trouble, and you, members of the Class of 2009, are going to live in the thick of it for the next few years. It is my hope for you that Barak Obama, our new president, becomes the architect of change that he has promised to be. I hope that you will join him in his mission for re-shaping America and that you will cheer his successes and be tolerant of his errors. I hope that you will use the wonderful intelligence, kindness, and character that I have seen you display here at AHS for the past four years to keep our country strong and prosperous. You are a bright and resilient class and I have every confidence that you will work toward positive change in our country so that it will be a shining example of democracy, equality, equity, and financial opportunity for years to come.

Sincerely,

Charles Skidmore

Last Will and Testament

WE, the Class of 2009 at Arlington High School, Arlington, Massachusetts, being of sound mind and body, do declare this our Senior Will.

Article I.

We direct our executor to drop our outstanding debts owed to Arlington High School which may include, but are not limited to: missing books, "lost" term papers, missed gym classes, old hold slips, detentions, pink slips, senior packets, labs, tests, and other requirements.

Article II.

We, as members of the class of 2009, do leave to this most esteemed institution of secondary learning and to the classes following in the twenty-first century, our many memories of the past four years: too many tests, no student parking, the attendance policy, tardy detentions and all of our many contributions to Arlington High School and to society in particular.

I, Lauren Z. Adleman, leave random cat noises throughout the day to Katia Georges and Alex Takats.

I, Talia Adi, leave control of the math department hallway to Rob Carter.

Dressed up!

Ode to '09

by Kelly Brogan

Four years we've all been together
Some days it seemed it would last forever
As little freshmen we thought we were cool
Taking directions right past the pool
As days went on we learned the ropes
We studied hard with our college hopes
Getting social lives, we did our high school 'firsts'
But we saw the side of that which was the worst
With new found friends we got each other through
And after it all our freshman year flew

September came, and we were freshmen no longer
As sophomores we were bigger and stronger
The year went on, when will that bell ring?
Relatively uneventful, only until the spring
A tragedy with results so sad
Through out the school we all felt so bad.
All of us had to pull together
In an attempt to make things a little better.
Sophomore year then came to an end
Junior year was around the bend..

Fall of junior year excitement galore.
The Sox brought a championship home in four
No more tipping we were so informed
Because of volleyball we were so warned
Colin brought 'Made' from MTV
Because a rapper he wanted to be
Before we knew it the year was done
We could start having our summer fun.

Finally though, our senior year came
After this our lives wouldn't be the same
Senior skip day came close to the first day
That wasn't going to happen again, Mr. Skidmore did say
Now we are putting memories into our book
Thanks Ms. Ortwein for all the time you took.
And now we wait for graduation in June
Only wishing it will come real soon.

SURVIVAL

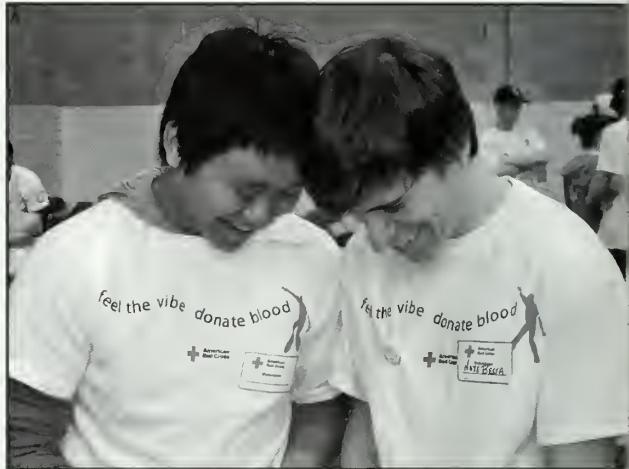

The Survival Program was started over 35 years ago. A double period at Menotomy Rocks Park, once every seven day rotation, gives students the chance to practice the skills they learn. Building shelters in groups and then by themselves helps the students to feel comfortable out in the woods. Taught now by Rob Tremblay, the students learn how to build and maintain a fire. Students used to be given a raw chicken and a potato to eat, now they receive two ziploc bags with ramen, mac'n'cheese, oatmeal, cocoa, cheese etc. with a pot and a jug of water. They are left to create their own menu and dining schedule. The purpose of the trip is to show students how well they can live with limited resources. Some students rise to the challenge using only magnesium and a striker. Being lonely and needing to talk to someone does not count as a failure of the solo, neither does the inability to start a fire on the first try. It is all a learning experience. The base camp staff is present in case of any emergencies. There is an SOS whistle signal set up. There are a total of four days solo. "It's a very old tradition to have young people go off on a vision quest," says Bob Tremblay. "I get so excited seeing these students pull it off. It's so rewarding." All in all, despite the cold nights and single digit temperatures all agreed that the trip was a success.

THOMAS

You have given us so much joy,
Now a young man though once just a boy.

Between soccer and sailing, to rowing, crew, and karate,
to us you have given great pride.
From defending the lacrosse net to playing hockey,
there are so many activities you have tried!

Playing the cello, trombone and guitar...
And all those other instruments from afar,
You continue to raise the bar!

The pep band was exciting,
The symphonic band inviting.
The full orchestra was moving,
And the jazz band was grooving!

We feel so lucky to be a part of your musical skills,
To us and many others you have given chills and thrills!

We have enjoyed your concerts in town and worldwide,
For good music, on you we have always relied.
It was amazing to witness your passion,
with your freshly painted instruments in fashion!

Your independence has grown.
Especially as you travel to the unknown.
For all that you have added to our lives,
Press forward with open eyes.

Always creative and sincere,
You focus and persevere.
Consistently considerate of others,
Such a wonderful friend, son and brother.

These praises we have been singing,
Keep up the good work and don't be a 'gingyng'!

May the next phase of your life be blessed,
Let God guide you through every test.
And continue to make every day the best!

Wishing you many open doors, exciting paths, and happiness.
We love you very much! Mom, Dad, Jennifer and Anne
